Eleven outstanding leaders of Women's Organizations in our community will be honoured by the Women's Division of State of Israel Bonds at an Awards Evening on Thursday, November 15. The Awards Evening will be held at 8:00 p.m. at Agudath Israel Congregation, 1400 Col-drey Avenue.

Each of the honorees has been selected by their own organization to receive the Israel Bond Award for distinguished service to Israel and the Jewish community. They are: Fanny Baker — Young Israel of Ottawa Sisterhood; Helen Beiles — Mizrahi; Greta Cohen — ORT; Lil David — Agudath Israel Congregation Sisterhood; Fran Greenblatt — B'nai B'rith Women; Sophie Koenig — Machzikei Hadas Congregation Sisterhood; Bertha Pleet — Hadassah-WIZO; Elaine Singer — Temple Israel Sisterhood; Sylvia Shinder — Pioneer Women Na'amat; Rose Taylor — Beth Shalom Congregation Sisterhood; Sarah Vered — National Council of Jewish Women.

The honorees' activities have not been confined to their own organization. Each has been involved in many facets of Jewish community life and has rendered outstanding service to the community.

The Awards Evening will feature entertainment by Emil Cohen, American humorist and raconteur. The son of a Cantor, Mr. Cohen brings to his performance a background in Jewish music, tradition and humour. Closely identified with Israel, he also has a deep understanding of how Israel's needs are met through the Israel Bond programme.

In announcing the names of the honorees, Gladys Greenberg, Chairman of the Women's Division of Israel Bonds, stated: "We are delighted that Ottawa's women's organizations have selected such distinguished leaders to be honoured at the Israel Bonds Awards Evening. I know that the membership of the organizations will join us on November 15 to pay tribute to their individual leader and to the other women who will be honoured that evening."

Admission to the Awards Evening will be by purchase of a 1979 State of Israel Bond. The Bond may have been purchased at any time during the year, prior to or at the Yom Kippur Synagogue Appeal. Those women who have not yet made a commitment may do so through the Israel Bond Chairman of their organization or through the Israel Bond Office (236-7139). A purchase may also be made at the Awards Evening.

In Front of Soviet Embassy on Simchat Torah

Rabbi Donald R. Gerber, Chairman of the Soviet Jewry Committee leads members of the Jewish Community in an appeal to Russian authorities on behalf of the Refuseniks and Prisoners of Zion in the Soviet Union. More than 200 came to express their solidarity with Soviet Jewry and to demand that they be allowed to leave without hindrance or harassment. They assembled at Strathcona Park and then marched in a torchlight parade to the Soviet Embassy. They ended their Simchat Torah Rally at the Jewish Community Centre. The demonstration was arranged by the Soviet Jewry Committee and the Group of 35s of the Jewish Community Council. Ruth Berger is Chairman of the Group of 35s. The event was covered by press, radio and television.

Sold Out for Hugh Grant JNF Dinner

Members of the Ottawa Jewish and general community will turn out en masse to pay tribute to Hugh M. Grant, the 1979 Negev Dinner honouree, according to Herbert Zagerman, Chairman of the Ottawa Jewish National Fund Council.

Mr. Zagerman attributes the excellent response to the popularity of the honouree and extensive card coverage by the Sponsoring Committee.

At press time, the dinner was completely sold out and there is now a waiting list for those who wish to attend.

Anyone who holds tickets now and is unable for one reason or another to attend the dinner is asked to advise the J.N.F. office, telephone 1-800-361-8459 so that others can be accommodated.

To Tape Survivors

The National Holocaust Remembrance Committee of Canadian Jewish Congress will be interviewing and taping survivors and other persons who were involved in World War II (soldiers who liberated the camps, etc.). The tapes will form part of the Oral History Bank of the National Holocaust Remembrance Committee.

Anyone willing to be interviewed is asked to phone

Freda Frankel at 232-7306. Tappings will be arranged with the cooperation of the Ottawa Holocaust Remembrance Committee.

The Oral History Bank serves as a repository of valuable personal evidence of the Holocaust, ensuring that this vital information is available to scholars, students, and teachers, and that the anguish of our people will never be forgotten.

Vaad Report

by Sol B. Shinder

President, Ottawa Vaad Ha'Ir
(Jewish Community Council)

Greet New Ambassador of Israel

It was my pleasure on October 3 last to formally greet Israel's new Ambassador to Canada, Yeshayahu Anug and his charming wife Renee on their arrival in Ottawa. On October 11, the Board of Trustees held a luncheon in their honour.

The arrival of a new Israeli Ambassador to Canada is an important event in the life of Ottawa Jewry. Ottawa is the place where ambassadors establish their home away from Jerusalem and therefore we greet not only a diplomat but a new resident of our community.

I could not but reflect when waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Anug to arrive, what thoughts went through the minds of those who awaited the arrival of the first Israeli Ambassador Michael Comay and his wife Joan in 1953. It surely was an historic occasion. Since that time we have seen eight ambassadors come and go, a truly distinguished group of diplomats who served Israel well during their respective tours of duty at Kinneret in Rockcliffe Park Village.

Mr. Anug comes to Ottawa following a distinguished career in the Israeli foreign service. He has served in the Embassy of Rome, as Counsellor in Buenos Aires and as Ambassador to Uruguay and to Paraguay. He has also served as Minister Plenipotentiary in London, England. Mr. Anug has at varying times held senior positions in the Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem, the last as Assistant Director General with responsibility for Latin America, Africa, Asia and Australia.

The Ambassador's arrival in Canada comes at a time when Canada's role in Middle Eastern affairs is under scrutiny by a new Canadian government. The new government's position on Jerusalem is subject to the result of the Stanfield mission to the Middle East. All of Mr. Anug's skills as a diplomat will be called upon to put forward to the Canadian government the Israeli position. The increasing political activities by the P.L.O. and the oil-rich Arab states are creating additional pressures on the Canadian government to shift its traditional stand in support of Israel. We must, as Canadian Jews, aid Mr. Anug in his task by expressing to our government, in no uncertain terms, that Canadians Jews are united in their support for the policies of the government of Israel and for the creation of a climate for a just and durable peace for Israel with all her neighbours. On behalf of the Jews of Ottawa, I know I can pledge such support to Mr. Anug and I wish both him and his wife a pleasant stay in Ottawa.

State of Israel Bonds

It is appropriate that the new Ambassador for Israel arrives in Ottawa as we begin a new year and as the State of Israel Bond Drive is under way.

State of Israel Bonds have, for some twenty-five years now, provided a steady source of development capital to Israel at favourable interest rates. They have been an investment by the Jews of the world in the State of Israel, an investment in which not a single person has ever lost any money. Interest has been paid promptly on every issue of State of Israel Bonds. Even during the troubled times of war, when the survival of Israel was at stake, State of Israel Bonds never defaulted.

The importance of bond dollars to Israel's economy cannot be underestimated. The dollars provide the development capital essential to a developing nation. In the aftermath of the Egyptian peace treaty, massive amounts of capital will be needed to finance the movement of settlements from the Sinai to the Negev. This capital requirement is in addition to the ongoing requirement to expand Israel's economy.

The 1979 Bond Drive is headed by John Greenberg and his wife Gladys and they have reported that the Yom Kippur appeal in the Synagogues has been successful. They have also reported that there is still a long way to go to reach the Ottawa goal of sales of $1,000,000.

Many Jews of Ottawa purchased bonds in 1967 in the aftermath of the Six-Day War. These bonds are now approaching maturity, and I would urge all of those who hold them to re-invest them in a new series. State of Israel Bonds can be used for payment of Project Renewal gifts as well as for gifts to many Israeli-based institutions and the Jewish National Fund.

The Bond organization will be sponsoring a number of events in the coming weeks and I urge you to support their efforts. On November 15 at the Agudath Israel Congregation, a tribute is being held in honour of eleven women leaders of various women's organizations in our city.

Israel needs the capital generated by State of Israel Bonds and we, the Jews of Ottawa, should invest our share. Please buy your bond now by calling the Bond office at 232-7139.

$25,000 Memorial Fund Set Up for Max and Ida Nadolny

The Officers and Directors of the Ottawa Jewish Community Endowment and Bequest Foundation are pleased to acknowledge the establishment of the Max and Ida Nadolny Memorial Fund by their sons Sam and Herbert.

Max Nadolny arrived in Ottawa from Europe in 1928 and his wife Ida joined him in 1930. They were married in Poland in 1916 and celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1966. Max Nadolny passed away in March 1979 at the age of 84. His wife predeceased him in January, 1972.

Max was a very religious and pious man who served as Gabbai of Machzikei Hadas Synagogue for more than 20 years. His untiring dedication and devotion was instrumental in the building of the new Machzikei Hadas on Virginia Avenue. Ida was a kind, common sense lady, well known for her interest in Judaism and her devotion to her husband and family.

Max and Ida Nadolny are survived by three children; Sam, Herbert and Lillian, — nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Sam and Herbert Nadolny are donating $25,000 to their parents' Memorial Fund. The capital will be invested in perpetuity and only the income used each year.

Because of Max and Ida Nadolny's great love and devotion for Machzikei Hadas Synagogue, the family has designated that the income will be allocated to the Machzikei Hadas for the first ten years, and after that will be used for religious and educational charities in Ottawa and Israel.

This Memorial Fund is an everlasting tribute to the memory of two fine people who made a great contribution to the advancement of Jewish life and to the community that they loved and supported.

Irwin Cotler to Speak on his Visit to Soviet Union

The Ottawa Women's Committee for Soviet Jewry has invited Dr. Irwin Cotler to deliver the first annual Shcharansky Lecture on Soviet Jewry on November 4. Dr. Cotler's topic is "Encountering the Gulag: A Personal Experience". Everyone is welcome to attend this stimulating evening program on Sunday, November 4 at 8:00 p.m. at Agudath Israel Synagogue, 1400 Coldrey Avenue.

Dr. Irwin Cotler is Professor of Law at McGill University and lawyer for jailed Jewish activists Anatoly Shcharansky and Ida Nudel. In August, Dr. Cotler travelled to Moscow to meet with the family of Anatoly Shcharansky and, surprisingly, was permitted to make appointments to discuss the Shcharansky case with high Soviet government officials. All previous attempts to review or even discuss the case had met with silence; so, this was a very encouraging sign indeed.

Jack Ballon

Does it Again

Jack Ballon, one of the Jewish Community's staunchest Walkathon participants and supporters, succeeded in raising $3,220 this year.

This is an enviable record and we wish him the health and strength to continue to inspire others by his example for many years to come.

Mr. Ballon has asked us to convey his appreciation to all his sponsors through the medium of this Bulletin.

Before he could complete his mission to Moscow, Dr. Cotler was abruptly expelled from the Soviet Union. At Agudath Israel on November 4, Dr. Cotler will discuss his trip, to the Soviet Union and his involvement as a lawyer in the plight of Soviet Jews.

The evening will be co-sponsored by the Ottawa Women's Committee for Soviet Jewry (Group of 35), the Agudath Israel Men's Club and the Agudath Israel Sisterhood. The entire Jewish community is invited to attend. There is no charge and refreshments will be served.

Agenda Highlights

to be considered by the Board of Trustees of the Jewish Community Council at its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, October 24, 1979 at 7:30 p.m.

1. Middle East Update — by Professor Gabriel Bender, University of Haifa and 1979-80 Visiting Professor of Political Science at Carleton University, under the sponsorship of the Canada-Israel Foundation for Academic Exchanges Program.

2. Presentation by Bertram Loebe, General Chairman of the Ottawa Civic Hospital Development Campaign, with respect to endorsement of a goal of $500,000 to be raised from members of the Jewish Community of Ottawa to build and develop the Rehabilitation Section of the Cardiac Unit of the hospital.

Blacks and the PLO: No Common Ground

By Bayard Rustin

President of the A. Philip Randolph Institute, an educational civil rights and labour organization in the United States.

Amid the heated controversy following Andy Young's resignation as Ambassador to the United Nations, some black people have suddenly embraced the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO).

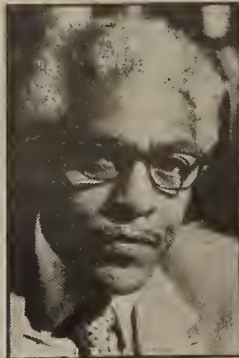

As I see it, some black leaders have turned to the PLO in an effort to act as conciliators between Israel and the Palestinians. Other blacks, I believe, met with PLO representatives in New York to demonstrate their independence from official United States policy. And still others viewed such meetings as a way of striking back against Israel and the American Jewish community for their supposed involvement in engineering Andy's ouster.

But regardless of motivation, I think black people must clearly understand the moral — yes, moral — issue involved here. For in seriously considering links with a group like the PLO, the black community is moving beyond the realm of mundane "politics as usual". We are moving into an area where we face three enormous risks: First, we risk causing serious divisions within our own ranks second, we risk the forfeiture of our own moral prestige, which is based on a long and noble tradition of non-violence; and third, we risk becoming the unwitting accomplices of an organization committed to the bloody destruction of Israel, indeed of the Jewish people.

Some people have pointed to a few superficial parallels between the American civil rights movement and the PLO. Naturally, this talk about the PLO as a "civil rights" group or a minority movement within Israel has generated sympathy for the Palestinians among black people. But this identification and even solidarity with the PLO is based on a terrible perversion of the truth, not only the truth about the PLO, but the truth about our own movement as well.

Looking back on the history of the PLO, one thing becomes abundantly clear: the PLO, from the day of its creation in 1964, has never once uttered a word in support of any form of non-violent resistance, peaceful relations between Israelis and Palestinians, or a political solution to the complex problems in the Middle East. By contrast, black leaders in America, especially central figures like Martin Luther King, Jr., and A. Philip Randolph, never once in the long history of the civil rights struggle countenanced violence or terrorism.

American civil rights leaders, of course, chose non-violence for many political and tactical reasons; but Dr. King once identified the key source of the movement's strategy when he noted that the black American rejected physical force "because he believed that through physical force he could lose his soul." In short, the choice of non-violence was based on deeply-held moral principles. It was based on a desire to build a community, to unleash the creative force of love, and to protect and enhance the God-given human dignity of all people, be they friend or foe.

The PLO, however, espouses the opposites of all principles. In word, but more directly in deed, it espouses violence, hatred, and racism. It repeatedly scorns reconciliation. While Dr. King frequently spoke of non-violence as "the sword that heals," the PLO exalts the sword that kills.

My description of the PLO here is no exaggeration. Its tactics, values and goals are candidly set forth in its National Covenant and other official documents. Its legacy of terrorism is written in innocent blood across Israel and Western Europe, and even across the Arab lands of Jordan and Lebanon. Between 1967 and 1977, for example, the PLO was directly responsible for killing over 1,100 unarmed men, women and children; its terrorist activities maimed nearly 2,500 people; and it held over 2,700 hostages. Moreover, this organization has trained and armed other terrorist groups such as the Baader-Meinhof gang in Germany, and the Red Brigades in Italy. Considering this record, I fear that individuals who see similarities between our struggle and the terror campaign of the PLO are ignoring or twisting the facts.

By harshly criticizing the PLO, I do not mean to suggest that black leaders have no business concerning themselves with Middle Eastern problems. Nor am I arguing that blacks should shun the PLO so as to ingratiate themselves with American Jews. Rather, I am saying that if black Americans are to play any constructive or conciliatory role in shaping American policy in the Middle East, we must do so in a manner totally consistent with the moral and spiritual tradition of non-violence. We must therefore reject hasty and expedient moves; we must reject any formal or organizational relationship with the PLO. Any links with the PLO, no matter how limited, would give legitimacy and tacit approval to the rule of the gun.

Dr. King, in his letter from the Birmingham jail, included a story to illustrate the rewards of perseverance in the non-violent tradition. He wrote about a 72-year-old black woman who walked a long distance every day during a bus boycott. Frequently she was jeered by hostile whites; she was tired and physically weak, but she refused to use the buses. Someone asked her why she continues to support the non-violent protest. Her response, I believe, will always be precious: "My feet is tired," she said, "but my soul is at rest."

By shunning and condemning the terrorism of the PLO, we too can be assured that our souls will be at rest as we preserve our tradition of non-violence.

Ottawa's Canada Israel Committee Discusses the Impact on Israel of Recent U.S., Mid-East Activities

by Murray Ages, Chairman

Lebanon

Lebanon continues to suffer from the continuous strife which has existed since 1976 and does not appear to exercise any of the normal attributes of a sovereign state. The Moslem-Christian conflict remains unresolved. Thirty thousand Syrian soldiers continue to form the bulwark of troops of various Arab nations who have imposed a virtual forced occupation and the PLO is estimated to have an irregular army of 18,000 soldiers in the country. The instability of this situation has a spill-over effect on Israel, for whom the security of its northern border is essential. PLO terrorist infiltrations into Israel and bombings in Israeli urban centres have been increased. The Israeli response of retaliation and pre-emptive strikes in order to defend Israel's national security has unavoidably resulted in some civilian casualties which has brought upon Israel the condemnation of much of the world, including her friends.

The Christian enclave along the Israeli frontier under the control of Major Hadad, continues to serve as a useful buffer for Israel between herself and PLO terrorists. Major Hadad largely exists through Israeli military support. The military usefulness of Major Hadad's army probably outweighs the political criticism that Israel has faced for supporting such an organization.

The United Nations Interim Force is virtually impotent in terms of preventing infiltration of PLO terrorists into southern Lebanon. On two occasions, United Nations' soldiers have been caught in Israel smuggling arms and ammunition for the PLO. The government of Israel, justifiably, has little faith in the ability of the United Nations Force to prevent PLO guerrillas from passing through their positions and continuing on into Israel in order to kill Israeli civilians.

PLO Political Offensive

In recent months, the PLO appears to have made some major gains in gaining acceptance and respectability in the major communities. The impetus for such gains may have come largely through the recent oil scare. While Saudi Arabia has recently announced its intentions to increase its production of oil about 1,000,000 barrels per day for an indefinite length of time, it has made it clear that it is looking for concessions, particularly with respect to the establishment of a Palestinian state. Yasser Arafat was able to meet with Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky and Socialist International Chairman Willy Brandt. Mr. Arafat was accorded a statesman's welcome on this occasion as well as at a recent meeting with the political leaders of Spain. The most publicized meeting was that between the black American representative to the United Nations, Andrew Young, and the PLO's chief U.N. observer, Zehdi Terzi, in New York. This meeting was an apparent defiance of American diplomatic policy which had promised Israel that no such contacts would be held until the PLO was prepared to drop its Covenant and recognize the right of Israel to exist in peace as a sovereign nation.

The United States government, for a brief time, even appeared to be on the verge of taking the initiative in the United Nations General Assembly to introduce a new resolution which might have had the effect of watering down the status of Resolution 242 which has always been considered by Israel as the framework of terms which would be acceptable to her for a comprehensive peace. The Andrew Young meeting, which led to his being fired, resulted in a back-lash of resentment against the State of Israel and the Jewish community by various black leaders in the United States. Several Black organizations have reacted by going out of their way to make contact with members of the PLO including a well-publicized trip to Lebanon by representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the organization formerly headed by Martin Luther King.

The black community failed to take into account that the firing of Andrew Young was not made at the insistence of the State of Israel or representatives of the American Jewish community. Protests were filled expressing concern about the breaking of a commitment by the American government and concern about any erosion of support for Israel. The firing of Young was an American government decision due to the fact that he had lied to his superiors about his contacts and that such a meeting was in defiance of American diplomatic policy. Andrew Young had further become an embarrassment to the Carter administration as a result of a series of indiscrete comments about various issues. This incident may have been the culminating opportunity for President Carter to remove Mr. Young.

A meeting of the so-called non-aligned nations in Havana adopted a resolution taking the position that the peace initiative between Egypt and Israel represented a serious threat to "peace" in the area and endorsed the right of the PLO and other Arab states to "reject and oppose any solution or settlement detrimental to the inalienable national rights of the Palestinian people and the liberation of all the occupied Arab territories and to foil them through all possible means including the use of force." They called on the imposition of sanctions against Israel including embargoes and exclusion from the international community. They also recommended that political, diplomatic and economic measures be considered against those nations supporting Israel.

Egypt and Israel

While Egypt and Israel have been unable to resolve their differences on proposed Palestinian autonomy, they have been able to achieve progress in other areas and maintain harmonious relations notwithstanding external events. When Washington invited an ill-suited team of United Nations observers to monitor adherence to the Treaty in the Sinai, Sadat and Begin quickly agreed to a joint military patrol instead. Sadat appears opposed to the propriety and wisdom of any American efforts to draw the PLO into Israeli-Egyptian negotiations. President Sadat called the U.S. plan to introduce its own security council resolution, stupid and appears to not want to deal with the PLO as presently constituted. The possibility that the Saudi pressures might in turn force the entry of the PLO into the negotiations might well be the impetus for Begin and Sadat to make progress on their bilateral talks.

Israeli Visitors meet

By Sheldon Shulman

On September 19 a group of young people who had previously been in Israel, met at the Jewish Community Centre for discussions about the country. They talked about further activities and made plans to meet again.

A film about Israel was shown, and Shaul Webber (the new shaliach) led a far-ranging discussion and showed slides of his home Kibbutz Merom Golan.

Most of the people at this meeting had visited Israel recently and there was debate about social and political conditions in Israel. Shaul provided expertise and ensured that the discussion remained rooted in fact.

The meeting also provided an opportunity for those present to express their interests and preferences for future activities, and Shaul showed enthusiasm for exploring diverse interests. A number of major themes emerged that he will develop in the future. The first was the desire, expressed by several people, to increase their knowledge of Israel, both its domestic and international situations. The second was the interest shown in creating a group which would meet regularly in which young people could learn and have social activities in a Jewish/Zionist atmosphere. The third was the interest in learning about Aliyah as a viable alternative to life in Canada.

Those who are interested in Israel and want to learn more about the country or just want to share some time with a group of young people are invited to come to the next meeting. For more information call Shaul at 225-6584 or at the Centre (Monday and Tuesday afternoons) at 232-7306.

J.C.C. & CAMP FORTUNE COMBINE FOR FANTASTIC SKI PACKAGES

The Jewish Community Centre and Camp Fortune have worked together to bring a new and exciting ski program package to Jewish Community Centre members and non-members.

SUNDAY SKI SCHOOL

Two 5 lesson sessions

Savings on Equipment Rental: Equipment rental for Jewish Community Centre members will cost $7.00, instead of the $10.00 fee charged by Camp Fortune.

J.C.C. AND CAMP FORTUNE SNOWBIRDS

Camp Fortune Snowbirds is one of the best ski schools in the area. The program that Camp Fortune and Jewish Community Centre have arranged for your child will be exactly the same as the regular Camp Fortune program.

The cost per child will be approximately $165.00. This includes bus, lessons, hill supervision, and lift tickets. An additional $70 charge will be applied to those people who must rent equipment. The program is for children ages 7-14 years and will start Sunday, January 6, 1980. Approximate times for the program will be 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Note: The $165 cost will probably be lowered due to the fact that Camp Fortune cannot supply kosher food, and food usually comes with the Snowbirds program.

DAILY ALPINE LIFT USE

Purchase of an Alpine pass entitles the skier to reductions in daily or season ski lift tickets.

Alpine lift tickets will cost $10.00 per day or $6.00 per day by purchasing a season's Alpine Camp Fortune membership.

Each parent of a child joining a program will receive one free pass; the pass entitles the parent to one day's skiing. Parking privileges for each day of the program will be available.

Transportation: Any individual who takes one of the ski packages will be able to take the Camp Fortune-Jewish Community Centre bus for a cost of $2.50/day/person return trip.

The bus will pick up at Machzikei Hadas, Agudath Israel and the Jewish Community Centre.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Chaim Potok

Here are a few highlights from the Arts Alive program. The next Bulletin will detail even more exciting activities!

Tickets are now available at synagogues and the J.C.C. Entry is free to all children's programs, with general admission.

Chaim Potok is coming to talk at the J.C.C. on Sunday evening, November 18, and will autograph your copies of his works.

Tickets to his lecture are $2.50 in advance or $3.50 at the door.

The respected critic, Edmund Fuller, wrote of Chaim Potok's first novel, The Chosen, "Anyone who finds it is finding a jewel". Life Magazine wrote, "His remarkable book will give universality to a tiny section of Williamsburg as Joyce gave an eternity of urbane meaning to one day in Dublin's fair city." The New York Times Book Review wrote of The Promise, Potok's second novel, "Brilliantly and intricately conceived. The Chosen established Chaim Potok's reputation as a significant writer. The Promise reaffirms it." My Name Is Asher Lev, widened his reading audience and reinforced his literary reputation. His most recent novel, In The Beginning, published in 1975, immediately became a best-seller.

To research his first work of non-fiction, Wanderings (published in 1978), the famed novelist visited concentration camps and trekked across the Egyptian sands to Mount Sinai.

In addition to his writing, he is an avid painter and also teaches, travels and lectures.

Theatre for Children

The Penguin Theatre Company began operations in January, 1976, and is now the only fully professional theatre company in Ottawa with a regional focus. The objective of the company is to present high quality professional theatre to the community and school systems.

Arts Alive is pleased to announce that the Penguin Theatre Company will present two plays for children on Sunday afternoon, November 18.

A City in the Making is a creative and engaging fantasy involving audience participation. Four clown-like characters undertake the particularly adventurous game of building a city!

The second production, an eastern Canadian premiere of A Chain of Words, is comprised of six Japanese folktales of universal appeal, dealing with cruelty and kindness, anger and forgiveness, humour and sadness.

Children's

Concert

The Madeira Woodwind Quintet will present a concert for children ages 7-12 on Sunday, November 18, at 10 a.m.

The Quintet, affiliated with the Nepean Symphony, has had extensive experience performing for children, and has performed numerous concerts in area schools in addition to other public appearances.

Dora

Wasserman

Yiddish Drama

The Montreal Star called it "a delight from beginning to end". Arts Alive will be presenting this marvellous musical on Saturday, November 17 at 9:00 p.m. There will be a reception for the audience and troupe following the performance.

"A Bintel Brief—A Bundle of Letters" was published a few years ago. It is a collection of letters written by newly arrived Eastern European Jewish immigrants and the replies by Abraham Cahan, editor of the Jewish Daily Forward. The New York paper, founded in the 1890's, is still in existence. Cahan created the Bintel column in 1906 and continued to edit it until his death in 1951.

Community

Breakfast

On Sunday, November 18 at 10 a.m. members of the breakfast clubs of the community will join for a breakfast. The entire Jewish community is cordially invited. Breakfast including general admission to Arts Alive will be $1.50.

Guest speaker for the program is Sondra Gotlieb, author of several books including Cross Canada Cooking and True Confections or How My Family Arranged My Marriage. For the latter, she was awarded the 1979 Stephen Leacock Award for Humour. More information will be available in the next issue of the Bulletin.

Second Helpings, Please!

Arts Alive presents a special guest appearance and cooking demonstration by Montrealese Norene Gilletz, editor of "Second Helpings, Please!", a bestseller amongst Jewish cooks of all ages. Mrs. Gilletz is presently giving cooking classes at the YMWHA in Montreal. She also manages her own kitchen boutique. Fans of "Second Helpings, Please!" can look forward to her soon-to-be published Kosher Cuisinart cookbook.

You are invited to meet Mrs. Gilletz at two cooking demonstrations in the Cafe Dizengoff for Arts Alive on Sunday, November 18, at 1:30 and 3:00 p.m. Bring along your copies of "Second Helpings, Please!" for autographing!

Review of Library Books

By Dena Shalom

More than two million people were directly employed in the Nazi machinery of destruction, and many more millions profited by pillage and loot. Outside of Germany, world leaders hesitated to believe what was happening, to protest strongly, or to give refuge to the victims. No one book can deal with such an enormity of horror. Four books recently acquired by the Jewish Community Centre Library approach it in different ways. Each book presents another aspect of the machinery in operation and exposes another thread in the web that entrapped European Jewry.

The Yellow Star written by Gerhardt Schoenberg, a German, for his countrymen, is mainly a pictorial record. The photographs and the accompanying comments vividly portray the mounting horror, the humiliations and suffering and finally the destruction. Most of the photographs are taken from official sources or by people who obtained official permission.

The Holocaust Years: Society on Trial is a collection of readings that attempt to answer the why and the how of the Holocaust by placing it against the wider background of other prejudices and atrocities. Most interesting are the explanations of the Nazi leaders of their acts and those of the rank and file as to why they became Nazis.

The Tulips are Red is the personal account of Leesha Rose, a Dutch Jewess. The book describes how a lucky impulse started her on the road to survival and how her mounting anger led her to the resistance movement. Her simple account of how her family attempted to cope and the choices they had to make gives us some insight in the ordeal of Dutch Jewry.

Paul Trepmann, a Polish Jew from Warsaw, describes in his book Among Men and Beasts how he survived by passing as a Pole and working for the Polish resistance in the Ukraine in small communities.

Overview of Hadassah Opens Programming Year

"Come to a meeting of Hadassah-WIZO—it's not what you think." This was the description Toby Yan, Public Affairs Chairman for Ottawa Hadassah-WIZO, gave of her first exposure to the organization.

Mrs. Yan was speaking as a member of a panel at Ottawa Hadassah-WIZO Day, September 16, the opening programme of the 1979-80 programming year. Her personal description of the timeliness of that invitation and the scope and variety of Chapter activities which convinced her to join Hadassah-WIZO, was addressed to the dozens of women gathered at the home of Tami Berezin for the day-long programme.

Deanna Silverman, Immediate Past President of Ottawa Hadassah-WIZO, made mention of her own special attraction to the Public Affairs aspects of the organization's activities. She noted that Hadassah-WIZO in Ottawa, as elsewhere, has had to adapt to the changing role of women in our society and to accept members' commitments on the members' terms. The panel emphasized the opportunities available to members to gain organizational and communication skills, which are now recognized and highly valued in the paid work force.

Ottawa Hadassah-WIZO, with 13 Chapters and about 700 members, is involved in a wide range of activities including fund-raising, public affairs and individual Chapter programmes on educational, general interest and social themes.

The new executive, which was installed for its two-year term in the spring, has been busy over the summer developing a series of city-wide programmes beginning with Ottawa Hadassah-WIZO Day. The new executive is headed by Betty Polowin as President supported by four Vice-Presidents—Annette Albert, Esther Kwavnick, Sarah Marcovitch and Elsie Baker. Hana Cammy is Treasurer while Judith Ain and Arlene Glube are Recording Secretary and Corresponding Secretary respectively.

The new executive is representative of the membership which has Chapters for women ranging in age from the early twenties to the senior years.

Day of Commemoration

On Friday, September 28, DROR held a program dedicated to the victims of the Yom Kippur War.

The program opened with the regular Oneg Shabbat, which included candle lighting and singing of Shabbat songs. After this, the group of over 30 chanichim were informed as to current events that occurred in the world that week.

A corner of the DROR Moadon (1544 Chatelaine) was set aside in commemoration of those who died in the Yom Kippur War. The corner was set up with memorial candles, an army uniform, books of the Yom Kippur War, and various pictures of some of the victims of the war. After the current events, a minute of silence was held in memory of the war victims. This minute of silence was ended by the blowing of the shofar.

Welcome

A filmstrip on the Yom Kippur War was shown explaining its various aspects. The film strip described the events of the war, and concentrated on acts of bravery enacted by many Israeli soldiers.

After the basic principles of the war were presented, a game was played to visualize the problems of North American Jewry at the time of war. The Chanichim (participants) were told to choose one of the following titles which best suited their opinion in this given situation:

A war had broken out on Yom Kippur, and Israel was losing drastically—WOULD YOU:

- A. Go to Israel and fight
- B. Go to Israel and help do volunteer work.
- C. Stay in America and help raise money.

The groups, after discussing their choices, presented a play representing their views.

Miss Israel, Ronit Ben-Basat, and Miss Italy pose in Tokyo where they participated in the 1979 Miss Young International contest.

Quest Topic

The next Quest television show hosted by Rabbi Bulka will feature an interview with Sandy Ages on the topic of Self Awareness and Assertiveness. It will be aired on Sunday, October 28, 12:30 p.m., CJOH-TV, Channel 13, Cable 7.

U.J.A. Women's Division Roll of Honour

To Contributors to the Women's Division

Dear Friends:

Once again we are pleased to publish below the listing of contributors to the Women's Division of the 1979 United Jewish Appeal.

The Women's Division was faced with a double challenge during the 1979 Campaign. We extended and increased our commitment to advance the quality of Jewish life both here and in Israel, by raising a total of $169,765.

In addition, as partners in the Ottawa Project Renewal Campaign on behalf of Or Yehuda, we responded to Israel's call to assist in the social and economic betterment of the underprivileged by raising an amount of $36,131. These results should make every contributor justly proud, and I am grateful to each woman for her generous support.

Our fine achievement was made possible by the unstinting efforts of a dedicated group of volunteers, to whom I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation.

Schaenfield Fund Tribute to Couple

The Officers and Directors of the Ottawa Jewish Community Endowment and Bequest Foundation congratulate Sam and Dora Schaeenfield on the occasion of their Forty-Third Wedding Anniversary and thank their family and friends for establishing an Endowment Fund in their honour to mark that milestone in their lives.

Sam Schaeenfield is a native of Montreal. He married Dora Viner, the daughter of the late Cecil and Freda Viner of Ottawa. The Viners were part of a many-branched and close-knit family circle in the community.

For a time, Mr. and Mrs. Schaeenfield lived in Perth. In 1939 they moved to Renfrew, Ontario, where they established Schaeenfield Iron and Metal Limited which is still being operated by their son David.

The Schaeenfields are staunch supporters of and contributors to many organizations in Israel and in the Jewish Community of Ottawa. They are members of the Machzikei Hadas Congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaeenfield have three children, David of Renfrew, Faye Helman and Susan, both of Ottawa. They are also blessed with four grandchildren, Brett and Hilary Schaeenfield of Renfrew and Tamar and Gilad Helman of Ottawa.

Mr. Schaeenfield's only brother David is married to Mildred Viner, his wife's sister. They reside in Montreal. In addition to the late Sylvia Aultschuler, Mrs. Schaeenfield's brothers and sisters are Arthur, Dave, Joe, Milton, Gordon, Betty, Mildred and Leona.

The Sam and Dora Schaeenfield Endowment Fund is open-ended and family and friends may add to it at any time. The capital will be invested in perpetuity and the income used to further charitable and educational causes. The Fund will be a constant reminder of the affection in which these two quiet, unassuming and charitable people are held by those who are near and dear to them.

A gift forever
